“All Work Zones Have Rules” Work Zone Safety Awareness Event

What: As part of the annual observance of National Work Zone Awareness Week (NWZAW), Georgia DOT will host a Work Zone Safety Awareness memorial. The program, observing and memorializing Georgia DOT HEROs and workers killed while working on the highway, will feature remarks from Georgia DOT commissioner, Russell McMurry as well as other representatives from federal, state and media agencies.

The program theme “All Work Zones Have Rules” will highlight the importance of drivers practicing extra caution in work zones, paying attention, slowing down and driving responsibly for the safety of workers and themselves.

When: 10:30 a.m., Tuesday, April 12, 2016

Where: HERO Headquarters, 515 Plasters Avenue Atlanta, Georgia 30324

Notes: Parking is available in the HERO Headquarters parking lot. The event will take place outside. The event will take place indoors at the same location if there is inclement weather.
