Georgia DOT Roadside Enhancement and Beautification Council Grants

Over $600,000 In Landscape Grants Awarded To Georgia Communities
Bartow County and cities of Acworth & Adairsville claimed over $90,000

CARTERSVILLE, Ga. – Georgia Department of Transportation (Georgia DOT) has announced awards for 17 Roadside Enhancement and Beautification Council (REBC) grants valued at $600,666. The awards, from the 2016 program, will be used for enhancement and beautification projects along Georgia’s state routes. Bartow County and the cities of Acworth and Adairsville received $88,071.25 for landscape enhancement and beautification on the state right of way along Interstate 75 and State Route 92.

“We are pleased that we can assist local governments and communities with these funds,” Georgia DOT Commissioner Russell R. McMurry, P.E. said. “GDOT is committed to enhancing quality of life throughout Georgia. Partnering with communities and organizations to improve their local landscape is one way we can do this.”

Since 2008, Georgia DOT has awarded 143 REBC grants totaling more than $5.5 million dollars to local governments and civic groups throughout Georgia. The program (previously called the GATEway Grant program) uses revenue from permit fees paid to Georgia DOT by outdoor advertising companies for vegetation removal in front of outdoor advertising signs. Funds from the grants are allocated towards purchasing and installing plant material along state routes.

Any organization, local government, or state agency may apply for a grant of up to $50,000 for landscape enhancement of the state right-of-way that involves the local community and displays the area in an attractive manner. Awarded funds may be used for landscape plant material, sod, topsoil, mulch and labor costs. A local commitment to long-term maintenance is also required. The REBC encourages the use of Georgia Grown materials for projects.

“The REBC Grant Program is a great opportunity for local organizations and governments to enhance community pride,” said Georgia DOT Landscape Architect Manager Bill Wright. “Beautification also enriches the experience of the traveling public as they drive along state routes in local areas.”

The REBC is comprised of representatives from organizations and agencies appointed by the Governor. They include the Outdoor Advertising Association of Georgia, Sierra Club, Garden Club of Georgia, Georgia Wildlife Federation, Georgia Conservancy, UGA College of Environment and Design, House and Senate Transportation Committee Chairpersons and the Georgia DOT Deputy Commissioner. The council reviews the applications and makes award recommendations to the Georgia DOT Commissioner.

Applications for the next round of awards will be announced when additional funding is available.
